Tories celebrate as Labour rebel defects

BY Stephen Exley

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A REBEL Labour councillor frustrated by the Government's policies has jumped ship and joined the Conservatives.

Tory strength in Haverhill has been further bolstered following Suffolk County councillor Philip French's decision to join the party.

The party already dominates politics around the town and across the county, and the move is a further blow to the Labour group which lost district council seats in the town in May's local elections – including Cambridge Way resident Coun French's.

His switch leaves the Tories holding all three county council seats in Haverhill.

Explaining his decision, former lifelong Labour supporter Coun French said: "I have become increasingly disillusioned with the party, particularly over the European Union and lack of support for Her Majesty's forces when overseas."

The move was welcomed by Coun Jeremy Pembroke, leader of the Conservative Group on the county council. He said: "I'm delighted to have Coun French as a member of the group. He is most welcome and I know he'll make a good contribution to our affairs."

"More and more people are becoming disillusioned with the Labour Government and finding themselves more in tune with what the Conservative Party stands for, both nationally and here in Suffolk. Coun French's actions represent a wider feeling in society that Labour is failing."

How Amy tackled mountain of debt

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A young mum whose marriage crumbled in the face of mounting debts has managed to sort out her finances and is reunited with her husband after help from a local group.

Amy James is just 25, but had reached breaking point about her debts when she sent an email to Haverhill-based Christians Against Poverty. With the help of advisor Henry Wilson she managed to get her finances back on track, then she and son Joshua, two, moved into a new home with husband Tom in June.

Amy said: "We were very young when we met, and decided to buy a house in our early 20s. This was the start of the build-up of debt. Shortly after buying the house, we got married and I found out I was pregnant. Unfortunately, the pregnancy made me really ill so I couldn't work. I was the main bread winner, we had no savings, and with the reduced income the debt just built up.

"I was really poorly when I was pregnant, then Tom and I could not get on because we were so worried about the debts. I was in despair. I did not know where to turn, and I was so ashamed about the mess we had got ourselves into.

"Henry replied immediately and from then on they helped us sort out a budget and stick to it. They did not judge us at all. They just really helped us so much, it was wonderful.

"Unfortunately we separated, which meant we had to sell the house. Thankfully this cleared all our debt, meaning we are now debt-free.

"We are now back together and happier then we have ever been."

Henry Wilson, CAP's Haverhill centre manager, said: "I care deeply about my local community. It's such a privilege to be able to offer a real and sustainable answer to this massive problem of debt.

"To see the lives of people like Amy completely turned around brings me so much joy, and I feel honoured to serve the people of Haverhill and Cambridge in this way."

Christians Against Poverty has just opened a centre in Tenison Road, Cambridge. Anyone struggling with debt is urged to contact Henry Wilson on Haverhill on (01440) 712950 or Jane Cavanna in Cambridge on (01223) 312462.

Business meeting

BUSINESSES in Haverhill are invited to attend a meeting in the town on Monday, December 10.

The consultation session has been organised by St Edmundsbury Borough Council, and will take place at Genzyme, Hollands Road. If you would like to attend the meeting please contact Emily Foreman on (01284) 757107 or email emily.foreman@stedsbcc.gov.uk

Fiesta car vandalised

VANDALS smashed a car window late on Friday night. The blue Ford Fiesta was parked in Alde Road, in Haverhill, between 11pm on Friday night and 11.30am the next day. Please call Pc Colin Cox at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 if you know or saw who did it.

Fencing damaged

FENCING was damaged and a wall knocked down on a building site in York Road in Haverhill. It happened between 4pm on November 22 and 8am the next day. If you saw who did it please call Pc Hylton Garrick at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Winning artist inspired by town life

AN ARTIST has scooped a £15,000 prize after winning a national competition for a painting celebrating his life in Haverhill.

Benjamin Sullivan beat six other finalists to claim the prestigious Lynn Painter-Stainers Prize.

The winning artwork, titled New Life, contains two elements: a Sunday morning scene featuring his girlfriend Ginnie, and the view from the window of the home in Duddery Road in which they live together.

Benjamin, 30, said: "I am just absolutely amazed. The award presentation was great, and it felt brilliant. I am just chuffed to bits."

He was also presented with an engraved gold medal to commemorate his achievement.

Benjamin was born in Grimsby, but says Haverhill is unlike anywhere else he has lived before.

And the inspiration he has gained from the Suffolk market town helped him beat off stiff competition more than 800 entrants from all over the UK to win the title.

He said: "I entered last year and was not even shortlisted. It is always a surprise if you get this far in a competition like this."

Benjamin is also a member of the New English Art Club and Royal Society of Portrait Painters.

Now in its third year, the Lynn Painter-Stainers Prize aims to uncover hidden talent and give unknown artists the recognition they deserve.

The six judges included Laura Gascoigne, visual art critic at The Spectator.

Benjamin's painting, with the works by the other finalists, will be on show at the Painters' Hall, Little Trinity Lane, London, until Saturday. The gallery opens from 10am-4pm and admission is free. For more information, visit www.painter-stainers.org

A 'funny thing' happened on the way to earth . . .

EVERY so often you hear of someone who has pushed themselves through the pain barrier to raise money for a good cause. But Eileen Jarred took her heroic tale one step further – she broke her ankle in three places in a charity parachute jump.

The 33 year old became disorientated during her descent from 3,500ft and crashed into a ditch after forgetting to pull on toggles to slow her down.

But despite facing the next four months in plaster and a year with metal plates in her leg, the youth worker from Haverhill could still see the funny side of her misfortune. "My ankle's been smashed to smithereens, but if you asked anyone who would be most likely to do something like this, they'd say me," she said.

"It's only my ankle, so there's nothing to be upset about – it will heal."

Eileen, who received a day's training before the jump, got into difficulties soon after leaping out of the plane over Chatteris Airfield.

"I'm not very good with directions so when I was coming down I was in the wrong place and at the wrong altitude," she said. "The instructor told me to bring myself down – but I forgot to pull the toggles, and I landed face down in a ditch two fields away from where I was meant to be. It's such a funny thing to happen."

Eileen and her friend Lizzie Ward, also from Haverhill, did the jump on November 4 to raise money for the Wednesday for Women community group and St Nicholas Hospice, Bury St Edmunds.

She spent nine days in Peterborough District Hospital after the accident. But Eileen, who is married with two young daughters, is now hoping to turn her injury to her advantage.

"When people ask to sign my cast I'll ask them to give some sponsorship money – we've already raised several hundred pounds."

So the big question is: would Eileen do another parachute jump?

"Yes I would," she said, "but this time I'd make sure that I learnt my left from right!"

Vandals strike again at court

TENNIS players are hoping police will serve vandals with a fine after local courts were attacked.

Haverhill Tennis Club's play areas were vandalised some time last week-end. A wooden fence being built around the club was also damaged.

Players setting up a Monday morning coaching session found the club's nets strewn across the court. They then discovered all the net winders had been stolen.

Cigarette butts also had to be swept off the court, part of the net tape was broken and mud was plastered over the floodlight operating box, which had also been bent out of shape.

Members have previously had to replace the gate locks on three occasions after they were broken by vandals.

Anyone with information about the vandalism, which happened between Friday evening and Monday morning, should call police on (01284) 774100.

Thieves take tools

POWER tools went missing after a pick-up truck was robbed.

Offenders broke into a white Skoda Felicia pick-up truck in Betony Walk, Haverhill, by forcing the doors between 8pm on Sunday and 7.15am the following day.

If you can help with any information, call Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crime-stoppers on (0800) 555111.

Patients vent anger over GP budget cuts

WORRIED patients came face-to-face with Primary Care Trust (PCT) staff in a show-down over cuts to GP services in Haverhill.

Around 50 members of the public met senior officers from Suffolk PCT who explained that £280,000 would be slashed from the town's GP budgets from April.

A 10,000-signature petition has already been delivered to the Prime Minister by Marion McLaine and Ann Sisson, from Haverhill's two surgeries at Christmas Maltings, Camps Road. And the Haverhill public came out in force again at the Haverhill Arts Centre on Saturday to show their outrage.

PCT officers were there to explain the changes to GP contracts in Suffolk and provide details of how they would affect the three Haverhill practices.

BY Ben Lee

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

They claimed the "restructuring" was not about cuts to care and the PCT was proposing improvements for patients with longer opening hours and more services.

But Ms Sisson, practice manager of Dr Mohan's surgery, said: "By reducing our budget by a significant amount these extra doctors and nurses could be lost – vastly reducing the amount of appointments we currently offer."

"If, as the PCT states, we have the lowest level of patient satisfaction in Suffolk, I fail to see how reducing our budgets will help in any way to improve services. I feel we will be letting the patients of Haverhill down."

She added: "We have been to Downing Street but I think now this is to no avail."

Health chiefs have pledged that no jobs or services will be lost at Haverhill surgeries.

Carole Taylor-Brown, PCT chief executive, said all three practices currently receive funding higher per patient than the Suffolk average – ranging from £14 to £23 more.

She said: "Our review of contracts showed there was little evidence to show that those practices with higher levels of funding had achieved more for patients."

"We hope that the improvements – such as increased opening hours – will help to improve services for people in Haverhill."

"I do, however, understand the concerns which is why we will support the practices to implement the changes and phase in the funding reductions."

Coun French is actively involved with the Reserve Forces and Cadets Association for East Anglia, as well as being a member of the St Edmundsbury Countryside Forum.

Coun French now stands alongside fellow Tory representative for Haverhill Cangle ward, former town mayor Coun Tim Marks, and Coun Karen Knight, who represents the neighbouring ward of Haverhill East and Kedington.

Coun Julian Swainson, Labour group leader on Suffolk County

Council said: "My concern is that the electors of Haverhill are now entitled to feel let down and angry that they are now being represented by the opposite of what they voted for."

"If he had a matter he was concerned with then the right course of action would have been to resign and stand as a Conservative councillor."

"It seems to me to be taking the electors for granted."

Town set to light up for Christmas

THE big festive lights switch-on in Haverhill will brighten up the town's countdown to Christmas.

Huge crowds are expected to turn out for the event at 6.30pm on Saturday in Market Square. More than 1,200 lights will sparkle on the Christmas tree.

There is also a

Christmas themed shopping and pampering evening at Haverhill Arts Centre this Friday from 7.30pm.

Meanwhile, the arts centre will host a seasonal flower arranging demonstration at the Haverhill Flower Club Christmas Extravaganza on Monday with Gill McGregor.

Hat-trick for partners in rhyme

IT WAS poetry in motion for pupils at a Haverhill school as they penned their way to four awards for their creative writing.

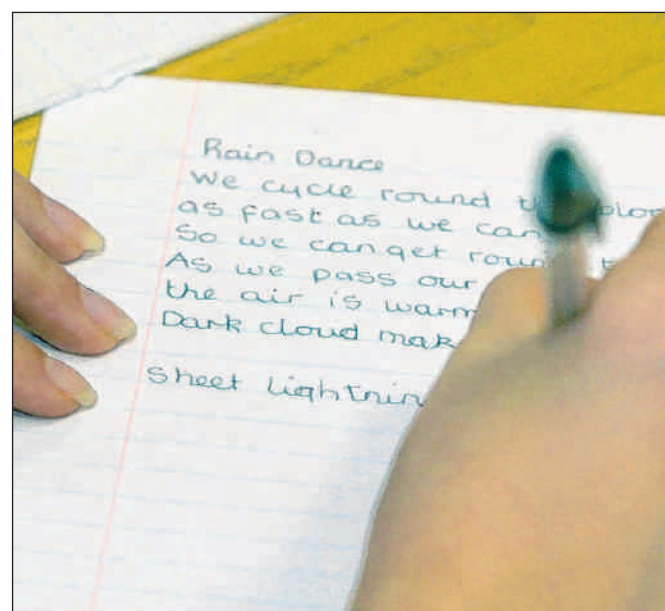

Four pupils from Parkway Middle School – Bradley Cutts, 12; Hayley Dunn, 11; Rebecca Mylchreest, 12; and Bartie Shirm, 11 – won awards in the Suffolk Young Poets competition. Heather Loxton, head of english at the school, said: "We are thrilled they have won it and for four of them to win from the same school is great."

Three other pupils were runners up.

The Poetry Trust is inviting schools to enter poems on any subject in next year's competition.

Entries are judged in two age groups – 11 years and under, and 12-19 years. Please send them to The Poetry Trust, The Cut, 9 New Cut, Halesworth IP19 8BY.

Kedington

THE 78th annual general meeting of Kedington and District Royal Branch Legion was held at the Legion Hall on Thursday, attended by a good turnout of members despite a cold frosty evening.

The Act of Remembrance and Kohima Epitaph offered by the chairman Fred Phillips MBE included those who had paid the supreme sacrifice in the two World Wars and the current fatalities in the Middle East campaigns, as well as members of the branch who had died during the year and had been granted full Legion honours at their respective funerals. The chairman welcomed those present and minutes of the 77th AGM were accepted as a true record. President Leslie Parkin in his annual address reflected on the work of the Legion as a whole and complimented the chairman on having completed 54 years as branch chairman. He also looked to the future of the organisation. The chairman in his annual report thanked all who had contributed in various ways to the success of the branch, in particular the secretary Brian Tyrrell for not only being a most efficient secretary of the branch, but also for devoting a great deal of time and energy in Legion welfare work, not just in the branch area, but across a much wider field in Suffolk, which is on the increase. He also plays a leading role in the maintenance of the Legion hall surrounds. Also praised was Bob Wyatt, a most efficient treasurer who takes good care of the branch finances and also acts as barman at branch social events. Thanks were expressed to all officers and committees, including the social committee for organising the very popular social evenings with first class buffets and raffles. Also noted were Standard Bearers, Vi and Bob Wyatt for organising the branch poppy appeal, and grand draw, and all local poppy sellers. The efforts of Eddie and Sheila May in organising the bingo evenings of the trips to Walthamstow dog track and Newmarket races which have raised considerable funds for the hall refurbishment were also recognised. Finally many thanks were given to all who contributed in various ways to the maintenance of the hall by window cleaning, hedge cutting etc. At a general meeting at the conclusion of the AGM, officers for the coming year were elected, with the possible exception of Mr D Reed, who was currently indisposed. However, the chairman gave notice that "god willing" he would be entering his 90th year in 2008 and, having completed 54 years as branch chairman, it was time for him to step down due to lack of mobility in his legs and back. The roll of chairman was left in abeyance.

Parents spelling out hostility to proposals

BY Stephen Exley

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

PARENTS have turned out in force to oppose plans to axe middle schools in Suffolk.

At the halfway point of the period of consultation meetings around Haverhill, more than 1,000 people had turned out to respond – and the same number had already completed questionnaires online and by post.

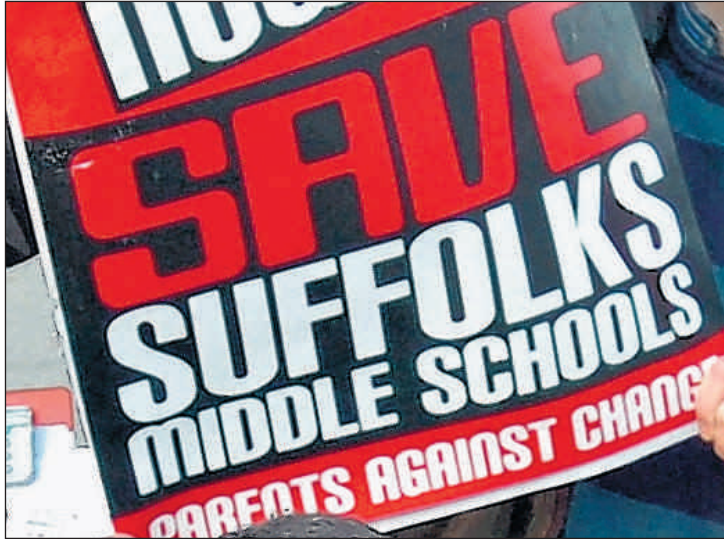

The proposals have been described as a “disaster” and “totally inadequate” by Martin Goold, county secretary of the teachers’ union, the NUT, and have also faced fierce opposition from parents.

Coun Patricia O’Brien, the county council’s portfolio holder for children, schools and young people’s services, described the amount of feedback as “very encouraging”.

She called on residents to make their views known on the controversial plans until the end of the consultation period, January 18.

She said: “There is plenty of time to look at the consultation documents, to consider all the options and to fill in a questionnaire.

“It is important to remember the consultation is not a voting exercise. We want to collect views on the various options to judge which option best meets the criteria which the county council agreed in March.

■ FIERCE OPPOSITION
... to plans to axe
Suffolk’s middle schools.

“We recognise there will be strong views about all the options, and we welcome open discussions about them.

“In the final outcome, however, the option or options put forward for approval to Suffolk’s Cabinet must match the established requirements for educational standards: inclusion and wider opportunities for all children and young people, cost, sustainability and environmental impact.

“Only by staying close to these principles can we be confident that we will arrive at the best possible solution for the children and young people of Suffolk.”

A number of meetings were due to take place this week. The last four meetings in the Haverhill area will be held in the coming fortnight.

The meeting at Clements CP School will take place at 6.30pm on Tuesday.

The following day, meetings will take place at Chalkstone Middle School and Cavendish Primary School, both starting at 7.30pm.

The final meeting will take place on Wednesday, December 12, at Hartest Primary School at 7.30pm.

Schools in the Newmarket area will also be affected by the plans.

The town is scheduled for the second phase of the review, which is due to begin in summer 2008. For more details visit www.suffolk.gov.uk/sor

Thefts from vehicles may be linked

THIEVES raided an office and two vehicles in Thurlow.

The three incidents, believed to be linked, took place at some time late last Wednesday night or the following morning.

A laptop, cash and a car diagnostic tool were taken from an office at a garage in The Street, where a grey Volkswagen van was also broken into. Power tools and cash were taken. Thieves forced their way into a black Volkswagen van in Wrating Road, but nothing was taken.

Anyone with information about any of these incidents should call police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on (0800) 555111.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our precious son and dear brother KURT MARC DOE

December 8th, 1985 -
December 2nd, 2005.

*Two whole years have sadly passed,
since God did call your name,
in life we loved you dearly;
in death we do the same.*

*It broke our hearts to lose you,
but you did not go alone,
for part of us went with you,
the day God called you home.*

*You left us beautiful memories,
your love is still our guide,
and though we cannot see you,
you are always by our side.*

*Our family chain is broken, and nothing seems the same,
but as God calls us one by one,
the chain will link again.*

*Also remembering you our dearest Kurt, on your birthday.
You will always be our shining star, forever guiding us on our way.*

All our love,

How will this funding cut help service?

Sir, The Primary Care Trust's Carole Taylor-Brown stated at the public meeting on Saturday that "there will be no reduction in the amount of money available for general practices in Suffolk".

While this is true for Suffolk as a whole, this is not true for Haverhill, where there will be a very significant reduction in funding for general practice.

Haverhill will experience the biggest cut in funding of its health services of any town in Suffolk.

The Primary Care Trust (PCT) agreed in the meeting held at the Haverhill Town Hall on Saturday, November 24, that it was concerned about the lack of health services as a whole in Haverhill. It accepted that, among towns of equivalent size in Suffolk, Haverhill was the only one which had no service other than the health service provided by GPs and community services based in the town.

The PCT stated that "they were not aware what practices had done with the extra money received".

However, for the Christmas Maltings and Clements Practice, the PCT specifically provided extra funding to allow the practice to develop and extend services provided from the Clements site in Haverhill – including the building of a new, improved surgery. This is clearly evident for all to see. So we find the statement that the PCT cannot see what has been achieved with the money rather odd, as it needs only to visit the site of the Clements Surgery to see what has been achieved.

The PCT accepts that some practices will gain extra funding from the redistribution of resources.

This funding will not follow any assessment of health needs, and practices receiving extra funding will not be required to identify how that extra funding is to be spent.

We are naturally disappointed that the PCT states the dissatisfaction of patients with the level of service in Haverhill. But we fail to see how a nearly one-fifth reduction in funding for general practice can help improve services and hence increase satisfaction.

It would appear that the PCT is penalising the patients of Haverhill further, and further deterioration in service must be all but inevitable with this level of funding reduction.

The olive branch offered in the form of the possibility of a new, innovative health centre coming to Haverhill is news to all the GPs in the town.

It seems unfortunate that a year of extremely difficult negotiations – creating uncertainty around the future of general practice in Haverhill – is likely to have damaged the relationship between general practice in Haverhill and the PCT.

It would have been much more helpful if the new services to deal with the lack of health facilities in Haverhill which Mrs Taylor-Brown admitted in her statement could have been addressed in ways other than funding reduction.

Emergency planning facing cuts

A DECISION to slash the budget for emergency planning in Suffolk has been strongly criticised by opposition councillors.

The county council is planning to cut £50,000 from the joint emergency planning unit.

Members of the council's public protection scrutiny committee were assured that the cuts would not adversely affect emergency provision.

But Coun Roger Bellham, Labour leading member for public protection, attacked the proposals put forward for next year's budget.

He said: "The Labour group is very concerned by these cuts. In the last year, the county has had to deal with avian flu, Blue Tongue and the flooding alert - now is not the time to chip away at funding for emergency planning."

The committee argued that previous budget cuts had had a "negative impact on service provision", and said costs should be claimed back from Government departments.

Coun John Field, committee chairman, said that the cuts were from planning for all eventualities, and would not lead to any reductions in funding for dealing with emergencies.

He said: "Public protection is a very visible and essential part of the work of the county council - critical to residents' safety, as the past year has shown us."

"It is vital that any proposed savings and cuts are examined thoroughly and that members have the opportunity to ask questions of the portfolio holder and officers."

"The devil is often in the detail, and the committee and councillors from across the county council have scrutinised these proposals and engaged in debate on what they actually mean for Suffolk."

Cash will be helpful to town's helpers

VOLUNTEERS' lives have been made easier by a council donation.

The Haverhill Volunteer Centre is the recipient of a £1,500 award from Suffolk County councillor Phillip French's locality budget.

The majority of the grant is being used to buy a new office photocopier. Mr French presented a cheque for the remaining £679 to be spent on updating the centre's computers and website. A spokeswoman for the centre said: "We are grateful for any donations received, as this helps the centre continue working in the community."

The volunteer centre spokeswoman added: "Many people use the web now to keep in touch and get information."

The centre also received a grant of £500 from Coun Karen Knight for the development of an identity scheme for volunteers visiting vulnerable people.

Please contact the volunteer centre on (01440) 708444 or visit www.hvc.org.uk to find out about volunteering in your community.

A bright new look for boys

YOUNG footballers will be proudly pulling on a new kit this year, thanks to their sponsors. Haverhill Rovers Under-10 boys' team have new shirts, shorts and socks thanks to a helping hand from Saffron Building Society. The Haverhill branch of the society, in Queen Street, donated the kit to the club as part of the society's charitable donations scheme. Andrew Jenks, secretary of Haverhill Rovers Under-10s said: "The team plays in the Cambridgeshire mini soccer league with seven in the side. "These new shirts really make the kids look the part and we're delighted that the Saffron chose to support us in this way."

More students step up to report racism

125 schools in 2005/06 to 152 schools in 2006/07.

The council points to its zero tolerance policy on racist incidents and behaviour in school.

Patricia O'Brien, portfolio holder for children, schools and young people's services, said: "It is important that racist incidents in schools are tackled thoroughly and that a zero tolerance approach is followed.

"With that in mind, it is important to make sure that children are willing to report incidents and that teachers are sensitive to them.

"This increase in reported incidents shows that the system in Suffolk is effective."

Schools have reported staff being more sensitive to racism, and pupils who are victims of racial abuse more willing to report incidents.

Get on your bike for £1m cycle challenge

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A CANCER charity is looking for adventurous souls to help celebrate its 60th anniversary next year by biking the Baltic.

The Suffolk fundraising team for Marie Curie Cancer Care is looking for people to sign up to its latest fundraising challenge which will involve some 300 UK cyclists setting off across the Baltic States next August.

They aim to raise £1 million - enough money to enable Marie Curie Cancer Care to provide more than 50,000 hours of free nursing care to terminally ill cancer patients.

The first cyclists will ride out from Warsaw on August 16 and the 30-day cycle challenge will end in St Petersburg on September 14. Riders can choose to do the whole route - a total of over 2,000km - or any one of four week-long stages through the Baltic states, starting from historic cities such as Vilnius, Riga or Tallinn.

They will ride through lovely countryside and stop in remote and remarkable places, while raising money for terminally ill cancer patients, and celebrating 60 years of the charity's work.

The stages will vary in distance and difficulty. All participants have to do is commit to raising either £2,500 (or £3,000 for the final route) in sponsorship, and be willing to get themselves fit enough for the challenge.

Angela Bussey community fundraiser said: "This is a really exciting opportunity for you to do something extraordinary while at the same time making a real difference to the lives of cancer patients living in your community.

"Every year our Marie Curie nurses go into the homes of people who are terminally ill, giving them their wish to be able to die at home. This service is invaluable to these patients and their families and with your help we will be able to reach more patients and provide many more hours of nursing care."

Migrants to get own advice help

FARSI, Pushtu and Sylheti are increasingly being spoken in Cambridgeshire's streets, according to experts.

They are among the six most common non-English languages in the county, along with Polish, Portuguese and Mandarin Chinese.

Now Cambridgeshire County Council has translated leaflets spelling out support services for adults in all six languages.

Farsi and Pushtu are spoken in Iran and Afghanistan while Sylheti is a Bengali dialect.

It will cost the council £2,000 to produce the leaflets.

A spokesman for the council said it had taken the decision to offer the leaflets in other languages because of the growing population and increasing numbers of older people who may need to access services.

The leaflets will explain how potential service users, families or carers can find out about the services available, how to contact the county council's Adult Support Service and where to get more information on the available help and support.

The council also offers an on-request translation service to enable all of its publications to be translated into any language or put into another format such as audio cassette, CD/DVD, Braille, or large print.

Tories tightlipped over party's road toll stance

BY Rachel Extance

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

CONSERVATIVE county councillors have refused to say whether they back the authority's own controversial plans for congestion charging in Cambridge.

Each of the 68 members of Cambridgeshire County Council was contacted and asked if they agreed with proposals to charge all motorists, including residents, for driving in the city between 7.30am and 9.30am, Monday to Friday, and to explain their position.

Just two out of 42 Conservatives – who are believed to be split over the issue – commented, while 21 out of 22 Liberal Democrats replied with the same party line objecting to the plans. Two Labour councillors also replied.

Coun Keith Walters, new leader of the Conservative group, said it was not the right time to ask councillors for their views because of the start of public consultation and advised his members to abstain.

Public consultation has started, with 23 roadshows under way.

Coun David Jenkins, Liberal Democrat group leader, said his party's unanimity showed "honest consensus".

Coun Peter Brown, for Hunting-

don, and Bourn's Coun Lister Wilson, who revealed a backbench rebellion against the plans, were the only Conservatives to go on the record.

Coun Wilson said: "My views on congestion charging are now well known."

The Transport Innovation Fund (TIF) bid is in public consultation until February. At the same time, group members will get a copy of the 183-page bid and have a chance to read it.

"When we have all the objections in from the consultation, the group will then have its first chance to discuss the bid and what to do with any Government response."

Coun Brown said: "I am awaiting the results of the consultation before making a decision."

The Liberal Democrats object to the scheme on seven counts.

They claim the present bid for £500 million to the TIF is unacceptable because it does not tackle carbon emissions, only congestion, and it does not preserve surplus income from the scheme solely for spending on public transport, cycling and walking.

They say it also does not offer adequate public transport improvements within the city or between Cambridge and the rest of the county; it fails to provide for special needs groups, for example discounts for disabled people; and it lacks support from the district councils directly affected.

"They also feel there is a lack of evidence to justify the proposed hours of operation or the boundary from which charges will apply."

Coun Jenkins said the party's position statement had "really strong input from the city and South Cambridgeshire as well as some input from Huntingdonshire and East Cambridgeshire as well. There are no substantial dissenters on it so we are not strong-arming anyone, even if we could."

Coun Martin Ballard, Labour group leader, said: "City residents should certainly not be charged when they do not add to congestion, for example when driving out of the city against the traffic stream."

Experts in stationery and business needs celebrate

STP Stationery and STP Business Centre provide a one-stop shop for all your stationery and computer needs.

Located on Camps Road in Haverhill, STP Stationery is celebrating 35 years of successful business this year. The two shops provide everything for your stationery and business needs catering for small businesses, people working from home, students and anyone who needs basic stationery.

Managing director Robert Stevenson explains: "The Business Centre has had a refurbishment this year which has enabled us to really extend the range of products we offer in both shops and also introduce colour photo copying into the Business Centre."

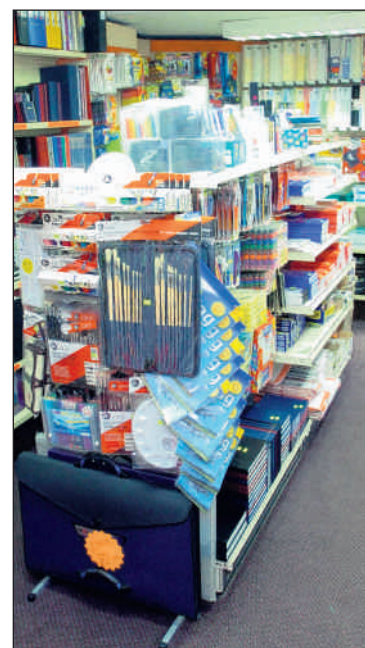

"All of the ink jet cartridges were located in the stationery shop but a full range is now available next door in the Business Centre. This means that we had more space in the stationery shop to extend the stationery range and we now offer a range of craft items alongside the photocopying, binding and laminating services."

Chippy's tradition of fish and chips

■ THREE GENERATIONS OLD . . . outside is Glenn Edwards, the son and grandson of Chippy's founders. Inside from left are Ann Lunn, Glenn, Barry Lunn and Sarah Jenkins.

■ PERFECT BRITISH CLASSIC . . . served by Sarah Jenkins.

CHIPPY'S has been serving the great British classic to the people of Haverhill and beyond for more than 50 years.

The family-owned fish and chip shop which spans three generations of the Edwards family is based on Strasbourg Square on the Chalkstone estate.

The business is managed by Glen Edwards and was founded by his father and grandfather 52 years ago.

"We have been going strong for so long because we use the right equipment, buy the right products and above all offer a friendly and helpful service," explains Glen.

"The key to making quality fish and chips lies in our batter. It is made from our own recipe and there's only three of us who know how to make it. It's top secret!"

Chippy's is a take away business and also has a mobile van which serves food to the surrounding towns and villages and can be found on Haverhill Market square on Saturday's Chippy's only use quality products and all of the fish is delivered fresh from Lowestoft, Grimbsy and Hull.

On the menu customers will find a selection of fish to choose from including plaice fillet, rock eel, haddock and skate all served with the perfect accompaniment – freshly cooked chips. Chippy's also serves Pukka Pies, kebabs, Southern fried chicken and burgers.

The full range of fish can also be fried in a gluten and wheat-free batter. The gluten-free fish and chips are cooked to order in a dedicated frying pan to ensure that your food will be completely wheat and gluten-free.

Chippy's is open Tuesday to Friday, 11am-1.30pm and 4.30pm-9pm and Saturday 11am-9pm.

CHRISTMAS WISHES

■ TIME TO EAT . . . latest tome from highly respected celebrity chef.

Gary's advice for

ARE you feeling hot and bothered about producing turkey with all the trimmings for 12 this Christmas?

If 'yes' then you have all the symptoms of seasonal feast phobia (SFP) – and you're not alone, according to a recent survey by Magnet.

It reveals that 88 per cent of us can just about cope with the shopping, and even the close encounters with the relatives, but literally dread cooking the Christmas meal.

Stress levels rocket over the fear of dry turkey and lumpy gravy, and maybe some of those doubts are justified – 50 per cent of us manage to overcook the sprouts and generally end up with soggy vegetables.

Luckily celebrity chef Gary Rhodes has come to the rescue with some Christmas culinary advice – so you can enjoy the occasion as well as serve a fabulous festive feast.

■ What's the essence of Christmas for you?

"A fresh introduction of family spirit, spread across all members, and also creating complete havoc in the kitchen!"

■ What's your favourite Christmas memory?

"I've never forgotten the time when I was only 16 and I first cooked a full Christmas lunch. It was quite an awesome task.

"I was training at college and wanted to impress my family, so took on the role of chef for the day, I wore full chef whites and the tallest chef's hat I could find. It was great and everyone, or so they said, really enjoyed it!"

■ What's your favourite Christmas menu?

"It would definitely have to be roast, stuffed suckling pig with the creamiest of mashed potato, Brussels sprouts and a rich, pork gravy enhanced with a touch of apple."

■ What's your essential Christmas ingredient?

"Flora Butter. It's a tasty, healthier alternative to butter and can be used in a great variety of Christmas dishes (www.florahearts.co.uk). And of course, champagne and lots of smiles."

■ What's your tip for making Christmas food preparations easier?

"Make sure you get all of your food shopping done

■ CHRISTMAS TURKEY . . . simply the best.

CHRISTMAS WISHES

Christmas lunch

Cooking is so enjoyable!

well before Christmas Eve, and prepare in advance as much as you can including the vegetables, potatoes and all extras. This way, you have little to do on the big day apart from put the bird in the oven."

■ What would be your dream Christmas?

"Waking up in the Caribbean, opening the curtains and discovering the greatest Christmas present of all – sunshine, warmth, golden beaches and crystal waters.

"Instead of rum sauce for the pudding, it would be rum cocktails before the meal."

■ Have you ever had a disaster/funny Christmas experience?

"I decided last year to change Christmas Day lunch completely and as a surprise, cook slow-roast belly of pork with a wild mushroom risotto – basically, something different and a variation on the traditional turkey.

"Half-way through eating, my two sons, Sam, 19, and George, 17, literally turned to me and said: 'Dad, this is rubbish – we don't want to eat it. It's Christmas day!' We ended up having virtually no lunch, no pudding and snacked on cheese and ham toasties later in the day.

"I think I've learnt my lesson to stick with tradition and do a proper Christmas lunch with all the trimmings."

■ Gary Rhodes' latest title, 'Time to Eat', is available now priced £25.

SAM'S THE WORD

News from Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College

AS WINTER is starting to creep in, many events have been happening and several others are coming up in the next couple of weeks:

■ In the art department, we have been luckily enough to have Beth Mcfall, who has recently retired from animation, helping students across the school. She has also kindly donated all of her equipment which the students have been making good use of. Beth has worked with the BBC to create many features like the Snow Queen.

■ We have also had a flying visit from MP Richard Spring, who we are always pleased to see and welcome.

■ Ms Wright (head of music) organised a trip for the Sixth Form to experience Chicago the musical in London on Monday. We hope they had a great time and enjoyed the experience.

■ Year 11 have had a RS Day on euthanasia and abortions which lets the students learn about these issues and is sure to stir some heated debates. We hope that they learnt a lot from this experience and are now aware of these issues.

■ Year 9 have set off to Ypres in Belgium to look at the World War I battlefields which will surely be an emotional day where they will see masses of unmarked graves and the trenches that the soldiers fought in.

■ The Stars in their Eyes heats start on December 3 when pupils will perform their favourite songs from across a variety of genres. This is sure to be a brilliant spectacle!

■ Year 12 students have been on their Challenge of Management work experience where they shadow managers from a variety of business for a week. This will teach them some key skills in the world of work.

MANORISMS

News from Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College

AS DECEMBER 25 approaches, Christmas shopping begins. Many will take a trip to Cambridge or Bury, but Castle Manor students journeyed a little further this year, to France. Pupils of all years took a trip to Lille early on Saturday morning and spent the day surrounded by the different culture and wide range of markets. All the students enjoyed the chance to spend the day shopping for Christmas in a different country.

■ The Young Chamber is progressing its way around Haverhill after its business launch during Enterprise Week.

Executives in the Young Chamber are visiting the Days Inn on Tuesday evening to meet with other businesses to discuss the future development of Haverhill.

■ Norman, Castle Manor's talent show, begins this week. Auditions were to take place on Monday and Wednesday with students showing their skills and talents, including singing, dancing and acting, to judges. The top 10 acts will make the final and will perform in the full school assembly on the last day of term. Good luck to everyone taking part!

Stop means stop, drivers are warned

A COUNCIL is getting tough with drivers who fail to stop for school crossing patrols and warning them they could face prosecution.

Many drivers think stopping for a school crossing patrol is a matter of courtesy, but motorists are legally bound by the 1984 Road Traffic Act to stop.

Suffolk County Council in partnership with other local authorities in the eastern region is running a School Crossing Patrol Stop Means Stop campaign. The campaign targets drivers who fail to stop for school crossing patrols.

Guy McGregor, portfolio holder for roads and transport said: "School crossing patrols play an important role in ensuring that children are able to travel to and from school safely. With the dark mornings and nights getting closer the officers are there to ensure that pedestrians feel safe while crossing."

"I would ask that drivers travelling through areas where there are schools and where patrol officers are operating to please allow more time for your journey, to slow down and be to ready stop when requested to do so."

"Suffolk County Council staff have the right to work without fear of assault or intimidation. As an authority we will actively prosecute anyone who does not respect this right. A driver who is prosecuted can receive points on their licence, a substantial fine of up to £1,000 and as a consequence in some cases lose their licence."

Spence hopeful after Westminster meeting

CHIEF Constable Julie Spence is hopeful her force will get extra cash next year and a better financial settlement in the future after a showdown in Westminster with the Home Secretary.

The head of Cambridgeshire's police force told Jacqui Smith that rapid population growth was putting extra pressure on budgets and without more Whitehall money she would have to cut the number of bobbies on the beat.

Ms Spence, Cambridgeshire Police Authority chairman Keith Walters and its chief executive Philip Peaston hammered home the message that increasing economic migration and house building proposed for the county had left the police short of cash to carry out their duties.

After the meeting in Mrs Smith's parliamentary office, they expressed optimism the Home Secretary had listened to their case.

Mrs Smith said she would respond to their representations within a month. The Home Office's final financial settlements for forces across England and Wales are due early next month.

Mrs Spence, who caused a political storm after saying that the vast number of Eastern European immigrants coming to Cambridge-

BY Bill Jacobs

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

shire put extra pressures on her force because of cultural and language difficulties, said: "I am hopeful that next year we might get extra cash from the Home Office because of the rapidly growing population in Cambridgeshire that we would not get without putting our case directly to the Home Secretary.

"I am also optimistic that future financial settlements for Cambridgeshire will reflect this need for flexibility because of our particular problems."

Ms Spence said that she had made the point that Cambridgeshire police suffered specific problems because of the county's diversity - partly because of the international nature of the city and its university and also the extensive use of different and changing migrant communities in the fruit and vegetable growing and processing industries. Cambridge and Huntingdon have been also earmarked by the Government as one of the fastest growing areas in the country.

Ms Spence said: "We told the Home Secretary that it was not just about migrant workers but the sheer increase of population in the county.

"We need an extra £1 million next year or we will have to cut the numbers of police officers and support staff. I don't expect to get that but Mrs Smith, whose own constituency in Redditch reflects some of our problems, listened very sympathetically to our case.

"We are not saying that Eastern Europeans are more criminal but that if we arrest someone, we have to get someone to speak the language and translate which takes twice as long.

"There are also problems with victims of crime and witnesses where they may not want to come to the police after their experience of Communist eastern Europe."

Coun Walters, the caretaker Conservative leader of Cambridgeshire County Council, said: "We got a very good hearing. I said the county police needed an extra £2 million. I do not expect to get that but I am hopeful of extra flexibility in the county police budget in the future to take account of our particular problems."

A Home Office spokesman said: "The Home Secretary listened carefully to the concerns expressed by Cambridgeshire police. We have set up the Migration Impacts Forum to consider the impacts of migration and we will consider any evidence provided by the police, together with colleagues from communities and local government."

JOHN Lenahan, the first magician in 85 years to be expelled from the Magic Circle, comes to Cambridge on Friday. He has performed his comedy magic on his BBC 2 series, Stuff the White Rabbit as well as TFI Friday and Celebrity Squares and at venues across the world. He will be at the Portland Arms Comedy Club on Mitcham's Corner with support from Jaik Campbell and Nick Hodder.

Tickets are £7 on the door and £5 in advance. Call (01223) 357268 to book.

Punk project

CELLAR Bar 8's monthly night of noise, Viva La Punk, returns on Friday.

The night, at the venue on Napier Street, will feature old-school punk rockers Resistance 77 as well as Northern journeymen Boredom AD.

Also on the bill are guitar slingers Out of Nowhere and Norwich's Mustard City Rockers. Doors open at 8.30pm and tickets are £6.

YOUNG Shakespeareans will tread the boards at Cambridge's ADC Theatre on December 6. The Bus Stop Youth Theatre Group, formerly known as Newnham Drama Club, will perform the Bard's Twelfth Night — and for some of the cast, aged between 11 and 14, it will be their first experience of acting. Director Helen Strange said: "Newnham Drama Club began in 2001 to cater for primary school children between the ages of 7 and 11 and as a direct response to the need to integrate disabled children into the performing arts. "Doubling of parts characterises our productions as no one is ever excluded from the performance and it all adds to the fun and confusion of Shakespeare." The show is on at 7.30pm and tickets are £6-£8. To book call (01223) 300085 or visit www.adctheatre.com

Jing Jang Jong: lean jeans and cool at 37

By Nik Shelton

Coming in at 37 in NME's annual "Cool List" is, arguably, not very cool.

The influential music magazine has decreed that the lead singer of the skinny-jean-clad indie rockers Joe Lean and the Jing Jang Jong, from the East End and New Cross in London, is among the 40 hippest people in the world.

They've also hired him for their yearly new music tour in 2008, something which helped launch the careers of Coldplay, Franz Ferdinand and the Kaiser Chiefs. In short, they like the band a lot — and so begins the hype.

But are they actually any good? Well it's a little early to tell. They've only recorded one single, have no album, and up until recently had only ever done 30 gigs. So all will be revealed when they play Cambridge's The Graduate on Mitcham's Corner on Monday.

"We have had a load of hype," said Joe. "But I think that's a word which always has negative connotations. To many people we are just pictures in a magazine. People have made judgements about us before even really knowing who we are and that's why we're really looking forward to coming out on tour because that's when people will really find out who Joe Lean and the Jing Jang Jong are. "The only people who actually know who the Jing Jang Jong are are the people who have seen us live or work in the studio where we're recording — and that's not many people at all." Joe is a man of many names. As Robin of Loxley he was the drummer for The Pipettes and as Joe Van Moyland he appears in the BBC's pseudo-historical drama The Tudors as young composer Thomas Tallis. But, despite being busy on all his other projects, The Jing Jang Jong was something he wanted to do for a long time. "I came up with the idea for this band in my head long before I formed it. It was a fantasy exercise. I talked about it for a while and then a friend said to me, "You are actually going to do this, aren't you?" so I almost formed it out of embarrassment because I'd told so many people about it. I've got a bit of a big mouth."

■ Joe Lean and the Jing Jang Jong play The Graduate on Monday. Tickets are £6.

Kick off festive season in style!

WOULD you like to be pampered, do your Christmas shopping and fundraise at the same time? Following on from last year's success, the Christmas Shopping and Ladies' Pampering Evening at Haverhill Arts Centre this Friday costs just £5 and includes a free glass of wine. There will be Christmas gifts, jewellery, chocolates, clothing and more on sale, with funds going to Thurlow Pre-school.

■ Scarlett Johansson stars in The Nanny Diaries (12A) as Annie Braddock, a young woman from a working-class neighbourhood in New Jersey, in this emotional and often humorous journey. Fresh out of college, Annie is under tremendous pressure from her mother to find a respectable position in the business world. Instead, she chooses to take a position as a nanny for a wealthy family and quickly learns that life on the other side of the tax bracket is not always as rosy as it seems. It screens on Saturday at 11am.

■ Haverhill and District Flower Club has a special seasonal flower arranging demonstration by Gill McGregor on Monday at 7.30pm. Come along and get into the Christmas spirit. It's amazing what you can do with a bunch of flowers!

■ With a top-notch cast including Colin Firth, Juliet Stevenson and Jim Broadbent, And When Did You Last See Your Father? (12A) is Blake Morrison's painfully honest memoir, brought to life and showing next Tuesday and Thursday December 6 at 7.45pm. Firth stars as successful writer Blake, who treats his ageing parents as something of a burden. But when his overbearing, boorish father becomes terminally ill, he must reassess a relationship characterised by obscure resentments and frequent public humiliations.

■ Award-winning Compass Theatre Company presents Pinter and Chekhov Shorts next Wednesday at 7.30pm.

■ Local Big Band 42nd Street return to the arts centre next Friday at 7.30pm. With vocalist Amy Letcher they will play a programme of swing and jazz classics, as well as big band arrangements of contemporary songs.

AN INVITATION TO A LIDL OPEN EVENING

In light of our recently rejected planning application for a Lidl Neighbourhood Foodstore on the EMG Dealership Site, Angel Drove, Ely, we are holding a public open evening to highlight our plans and options.

WEDNESDAY 5th DECEMBER 6pm - 7.30pm

Please come along to the Ely Cathedral Education Centre, Palace Green, Ely, to review our plans, sample a selection of the products sold in our stores and to ask our property team any questions that you may have regarding Lidl and our proposal for the site.

WE LOOK FORWARD TO MEETING YOU

Lidl is already firmly established as a leading grocery retailer throughout Europe. By offering top quality products and fresh goods at extremely competitive prices, Lidl has been able to build one of the fastest growing retail operations in the country with over 390 stores nationwide.

HAVERHILL WEEKLY NEWS

MOTORING

BMW's cult coupe delight

I WAS up very early at the recent autumnal BMW multi-model launch here in the UK for two good reasons, writes Adam Swift.

One, the heating in my room wasn't working; and two, there was a car I wanted to get my hands on.

That motor was the 135i Coupé, a brand new sports car packing the "International Engine of the Year 2007" award-winning twin-turbocharged 3.0-litre petrol engine. First, though, a look around. The 1 Series Coupé takes up space in a nicely macho yet understated way, a million miles from the other-worldly Z4 Coupé and also, importantly, sufficiently individual in relation to the 1 Series hatchback.

Climb aboard and you are in familiar territory with near-perfect driving position, understated ergonomic precision, and subtle yet sporting themes. Two interior styles of dashboard are available, one with navigation, one without. If navigation is specified, an electrically folding colour display is housed in the centre top of the dashboard, with the iDrive controller fitted on the centre console adjacent to the gearstick.

Slot the keyfob into the centre console, prod the starter button and the twin turbocharged 3.0-litre petrol unit sparks to life.

Curiously the 135i Coupé felt more comfortable and yielding than its hatchback sibling, perhaps because the Coupé's stronger rigidity lets the suspension work more effectively. This means that you are at the wheel of a little sports car that displays exemplary control and minimal lean through corners, yet rides with more grace than you would expect. This model also features an electronic differential to aid traction while accelerating out of corners.

And performance? Well the 135i deserves to carry the "M" moniker as it is actually not far off the pace of an M3. Glance at the figures and you will note that it comfortably trounces equivalents like the Golf R32 and Audi S3 – and even embarrass Porsche Cayman S owners. In the end however it is the nature of the power delivery that boggles the mind more than the bald figures. Given an inviting swathe of empty country road I floored the accelerator in second and then third gears. The pace was relentless right across the rev range, and the strangest thing of all was that the turbos kept themselves completely silent. Hit the throttle at almost any engine speed and there is a mountain of torque on tap.

The fat steering wheel gives you something to hang on to as you go into hyperdrive, while the gearshift is typical BMW – meaty yet positive. When you need to erase momentum, the massive discs in the high-performance braking system are awesome, with six-piston calipers at the front and two-piston calipers at the rear for greater stopping power.

BASICALLY...

A halo car for the 1-Series range that truly cuts the mustard. People are going to love this coupé.

THE new Mazda6, a 10-strong range of saloons and hatchbacks, arrives in UK showrooms at the very end of this year, with six diesel models going on sale in January, followed by nine estate models in March.

December launch model prices will range from £15,100 for the five-door 1.8S, to £21,320 for the 2.0D SL saloon. Equipment levels are strong on all versions - every Mazda6 gets stability and traction control, all-disc anti-lock brakes, daytime running lights, a full airbag complement, including full-length curtain airbags, remote central locking with deadlocks, global opening/closing for all four electric windows, and aircon.

■ LAUNCH . . . all-new Mazda6.

Services like video conferencing and music downloads are essential features of 3G technology. But transmitting this data comes at a cost. Higher frequencies and broader bandwidths mean greater propagation loss, posing a significant threat to the mobile communications industry. That's where ip.access comes in. Our picocell and femtocell solutions solve in-building access problems for some of the world's biggest mobile network operators. We've already established an enviable reputation, and we're gearing up to bring wider, more reliable coverage to households and businesses across the globe. To do this, we need a number of ambitious and highly-skilled engineers to contribute their skills to the ongoing development of our picocell and femtocell solutions - transforming a revolutionary idea into a major global brand.

Are you ready to change the way the world communicates?

Send your CV to jobs@ipaccess.com quoting the job you are interested in and TECH/AR/1107 as the subject line of your email. Please include details of your current salary and benefits package and your salary expectations.

Super Alex cracks eight

West Watting U10 Reds 13
Thurlow Youth U10 0

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10D

WRATTING welcomed new boys Thurlow to Bull Lane in a match which started at a blistering pace.

The deadlock was broken early, with Will Bailey firing in from the edge of the box.

The goals then came at regular intervals with striker Alex Carter managing to get on the end of several fine passages of play to net himself six goals in the period.

Paul Jenkinson completed the scoring for the period collecting the ball at halfway before surging towards the Thurlow penalty area and unleashing a great shot into the bottom corner.

The second half saw a reshuffle for Wrattling, Jenkinson going in goal, allowing Ben Eames to come outfield.

The changes did not affect the style of play and Eames bagged a quick double, the second an excellent lob leaving the keeper stranded.

Stevie Boyles added to the score with a corner kick flying straight in.

Carter then notched his seventh and eighth of the game with a pair of fantastic strikes, to bring the total to 13.

Balsham U10 4
Grampian Gunners U10 0

GRAMPIAN'S new signing Jack Davis made an impressive debut in midfield. Thrown in the deep end against a very strong side, he passed the ball about very well.

Captain Jason Moore and Bailey Cassidy held the back line well and were unlucky to concede early on.

Wing man Jamie Lingard showed great strength to shrug off two challenges before his powerful shot cannoned off the crossbar.

Balsham then broke and hit a rocket shot, which Cassidy deflected into his own net past the unlucky Lewis Knightly, who produced another fine display in goal.

The second half saw Grampian's Josh Mathewson and Mitchell Forshaw both fire against the post before the Balsham keeper produced two outstanding saves from Forshaw and Jack Ferguson.

As Grampian went in search of goals they conceded two more, but never gave up, particularly winger Toby Daly and man-of-the-match Moore.

West Watting U10 1
Aztecs 3

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE U11 CUP,
SECOND ROUND

PASSION and technical ability were on show in this pulsating encounter.

Wrattling went close early on; Foster and Lambert forcing outstanding saves from Tinniswood in the visitors' goal.

Sullivan went close for Aztecs before Gardner headed home well from a corner to give them the lead.

Wrattling lifted their heads immediately, Stevenson was sharp, Massie and Cooper linked well to feed Lambert, who smacked the ball home to equalise.

Aztecs forced Millar to save superbly twice as they pressed.

The second half saw the pressure shared, with Tinniswood again making vital saves for Aztecs.

Elliott and Ankers stormed around the pitch, Payne was strong, Ager and Scotton were immense for Wrattling before being undone by two well-struck finishes from Sullivan, which put Aztecs through to the quarter-finals.

Whittlesford U9 0
Hundon Hawks U9 4

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 9D

THE Hawks took control early on in this match and, after Tommy Goodwin went very close to opening the scoring, man-of-the-match Anders Pille netted twice to ease the nerves.

Jake Ryan pulled off a good save to preserve the two-goal lead and, with Liam Cohen and Johnny Frost solid at the back, the Hawks pressed ever onward.

Branham Ince made it 3-0 and with Kieran Grace prompting attack after attack it was left to skipper Milo Holmes to wrap up the points when he cracked in number four for a fine 4-0 away win for Hundon.

Danny is the boy to lead a goal blitz

LAVENHAM Eagles did not know what was coming in the third round of the Suffolk Sunday Trophy as Haverhill's Grampian Sunday hammered them to secure another step towards a possible place in the final at Portman Road.

Danny Hill led the way with six goals and Shaun Hurkett nabbed a hat-trick in a 10-1 victory for Grampian, whose other scorer was Ryan Emiler. In the Treadfirst Sudbury & District Sunday League Division One, Haverhill Bull's unbeaten league run continues as they beat a lacklustre Haverhill Royal Exchange side 6-1 with goals from Jamie Warner, Dave White, Matthew Ford, Lee Miller, Danny Symonds and Alex Austin.

In the same division, Haverhill Snooker and Bowl recorded their first home win of the season with a 2-1 victory over Bayhorse.

In Division Two, Ridgewell easily beat Thurlow 7-1. Barnadiston Arms were knocked off the top spot in Division Three after being beaten by Boxford Rovers 4-1, who leapfrog Barnadiston to go top.

In Division Four, after their winning league run came to an end the previous week to Lionhearts, Woodlands gained revenge with a 3-2 win.

In Division Five, Alan Brittain, Luke Jobson and Matt McBrien's goals were not enough as Arrendene Athletic were beaten 4-3 by top-of-the-table Glemsford Social Club.

Delaware Feather Angels continued their recent good form with their third straight win, edging out Comard Blades 2-1.

Richard Webb's header and a Matthew Cullen penalty were ultimately enough for Delaware.

A late Comard goal did give the home side a glimmer of hope, but it was Angels who held on to take all three points.

Haverhill Rose & Crown triumphed 2-1 away to Northcroft Rangers.

TENNIS

A grand effort by Clementine and Christie

TWO youngsters from Haverhill competed with distinction in the Grand Slam finals of the Suffolk Regional Mini Tennis Circuit in Ipswich.

Clementine Walsh and Christie Roberts had been playing on the mini tennis circuit from April to the end of September.

Points are allocated depending on which position they finish in, (first place nine points, second place seven) and the pair had gained enough points to qualify for the finals.

Walsh played in the mini red event and won every game apart from the final, where she was narrowly beaten by a competitor from the Next Generation club in Ipswich.

Roberts played in the mini green finals, which were for children born in 1997 and played on a full sized tennis court.

Against some very strong opposition she did exceptionally well to finish third.

The pair are coached at Haverhill Tennis Club by Robert Jeffs and Lewie Hensby.

■ Please contact Jeffs on 07906 814108 for details on joining the club or the coaching programme, which is for children and adults.

■ PROUD... Clementine Walsh, left, and Christie Roberts with their medals.

Training vital for a revival, says Quinney

MARK Jury's penalty was scant consolation for Haverhill as they were beaten 29-3 at home against Southwold in Division Two of the Eastern Counties League on Saturday. But captain Dave Quinney believes his side, who are second from bottom, need more time on the training pitch if they are to start getting positive results. He said: "We're struggling for players at the moment and we need to train as a unit. "We played well in stages, but you've got to play well for the whole match."

MARTIAL ARTS

■ SUCCESSES . . . Members of Haverhill Tang Soo Do Korean Martial Arts Club, who came through their gradings examinations with flying colours.

Ashlea and Sophie lead way at top gradings

MEMBERS of the Haverhill Tang Soo Do Korean Martial Arts Club took part in an upgrading examination in front of the 10th Dan Grand Master Lee Kang UK. Club instructor Kevin Blackwell reported: "We had two junior students, Sophie Reagan and Ashlea Scott, from Haverhill, grading from blue belt to red, which is a very critical stage on the way to becoming a Dan Bom or black belt. All the years of training have to come together with 100 per cent dedication, commitment and intent."

"This has included months of intense preparation, training sometimes three or four times a week, including being pre-tested in Haverhill and again at Cambridge in front of Master Jason Miller."

"There then followed further pre-testing by the regional instructor in St Ives before they were submitted for the final grading."

The final testing took place at St Ives in front of the Grand Master Lee Kang UK. The red belt grading consists of techniques performed by Korean command, hyungs (set routines of moves), one-step sparring, followed by free fighting.

Finally, Reagan and Scott had to perform flying side kicks over three people and break a board, which both Haverhill students successfully carried out with a great show of skill and technique.

"All of the Haverhill dan grades are really proud of the students for the effort they have shown and for being awarded red belts at such young age. Congratulations to everyone that successfully graded," said Blackwell.

Heller's treble boosts Rovers

■ TRIPLE JOY . . . Hat-trick hero Richard Heller, whose goals helped to sink Mildenhall.

RICHARD Heller's hat-trick helped Haverhill thrash Mildenhall 5-1 and book their place in the third round of the Ridgeons League Cup on Tuesday night.

Marc Abbott opened the scoring with a cool finish and Heller claimed his first following a long clearance from Arron Benstead.

Craig Hammond's header made it 2-1 at the break, before Heller's deflected drive beat the stranded Ben Nower from the edge of the box.

The forward grabbed his third thanks to good work from Nick Impey, and Wayne Goddard put the icing on the cake with a fine curling free-kick from 25 yards in stoppage time.

Heller's late cross-shot was turned into his own goal by a Leiston defender to hand Haverhill all three points at the death of Saturday's league encounter at Hamlet Croft.

Steve Taylor's men had the better of a disappointing first half and Impey twice went close, while Goddard's scorching free kick was well saved by the goalkeeper.

Jamie Thurlbourne showed his team-mate how to do it when his powerful set-piece flew into the net on the hour mark, but the visitors made it all square 15 minutes later.

With a draw seeming the most likely result, Heller drilled a dangerous volley across the penalty area and the ball was diverted past the stationary keeper to seal Rovers' third win in four league matches.

■ Rovers are on the road twice during the coming week as they bid to add to their league points tally.

On Saturday, they visit Swaffham Town before travelling to the Essex coast on Tuesday evening to play Harwich & Parkeston.
